MIDAS TOUCH
NOT FOR HIM.

Col. Randolph Declares He Was Buncod.

Brings Suit to Recover His Share of Millions.

Threatens Criminal Action
If Possible.

Possessors of millions, Frederick W.
Estebrook, head of the great Estebrook Shoe Company of Nahma, N. H., and Lycurgus I. Lindsey of Los Angeles, face prosecution at the instance of Col. Epes Randolph, E. H.
Harriman's right-hand man and intimate friend of "Cananea" Greens, on possible charges of conversion of stock valued at $150,000.

In connection with this same transaction Col. Randolph, through his attorney, Hon. Eugene Ives, filed suit in the Superior Court yesterday against Mr. Lindsey for $300,000.
A suit is already pending against Mr. Estebrook for $25,000 in regard to this same deal.

These civil suits are to recover the par value of $50,000 worth of stock in the Lindsey-Cananea Center Mines Company, now valued at over $300,000.
That such an astute business man as Col. Randolph could possibly be "buncoed" in a plain ordinary mining deal speaks volumes for the cuts "business" dealings of the defendants. In fact the whole story is one of romance in copper country, the Midas touch of the mining kings of the Southwest.

NOT ONE CENT.

Wonderful indeed is the story of the development of the prospect holes in Mexico near Cananea, into which was poured millions of dollars through the instrumentality of Col. Randolph, yet in spite of which he did not get one cent.

Estebrook and Lindsey were practically the Lindsey-Cananea Center Mines Company, yet their outlook, until a recent date, was rather gloomy. In spite of the possession by the company of a number of claims scattered about in Mexico.

But two of these claims were copper properties and near the great mines at Cananea. There were prospect holes on them, but the company did not have the cash in the treasury to develop them. The promoters were anxious to sell at a good price.

Then it was that Mr. Lindsey went to Col. Randolph, who has the reputation of knowing a good mine when he sees it and asking him to take a share in the company. He was not enthusiastic for there are any number of prospect holes in the Southwest and the colonel has been "down" in a few of them before this.

TAKES A "FLIER."

However, Lindsey was insistent and finally proposed to Col. Randolph that he take 50,000 shares of stock in the company and pay for it when he pleased. As a matter of fact, however, he could give his notes for the amount payable at any time that would suit him.

Col. Randolph consented on condition that the stock he purchased in this manner should be the security for the notes, and this was acquiesced in and the two certificates were made out in the name of Epes Randolph for 25,000 shares of stock in the Lindsey-Cananea Center Mines Company.

Each of these certificates was planned with a common brass pin one of Col. Randolph's notes for $25,000.

The promoters had "hunch" that if they could sufficiently interest Col.
Randolph in these prospects he would quickly bring about a sale. Their hunch was good.

One day Col. Randolph was in the Cananea district and Mr. Lindsey also happened to be on the same train. Said Lindsey to Randolph:

"What the matter with taking a look at those prospects of ours. Then you can see for yourself whether they are any good or not."

Not a bad idea, thought the colonel, and he got off the train and drove about four miles out into the wilderness and took a couple of squints at the prospects.

BECOMES INTERESTED.

What he saw interested him. He decided that the "goods" were there and only needed development to become valuable. His $50,000 began to look better than thirty cents.

Soon afterward, at a gathering of the copper kings of the Southwest, Col.
Randolph took occasion to remark upon the beauties of those prospect holes from a copper point of view and interested Thomas F. Cole of Duluth, one of the coteries of Aramgamated and Cananea, in the venture.

"If what you say about those prospects is true, they are certainly worth looking into," said Mr. Cole and he proceeded to look into them at the first opportunity.

As Col. Randolph had said they "looked good," and Mr. Cole entered into a deal with Lindsey as the representative of the Lindsey-Cananea Center Mines Company, in which he paid down $250,000 as the first payment of $250,000 for these two claims, the balance to be paid by January, 1908.

CASH VS. NOTES.

By a coincidence the notes which Col. Randolph gave for the 50,000 shares of stock in the company were also due in January, 1908.

SIGNAL BANNER OF GOOD ROADS PLANTED HIGH AT RIVERSIDE.

Famous Drive Up a Mountain Opened, Step of Import to Southern California Taken.

BY B. FRANK GREAVES.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RIVERSIDE, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A long step forward for good roads throughout Southern California was taken today and tonight in the opening of Huntington Park Drive up Rubidoux Mountain in the afternoon, and a magnificent banquet at The Glenwood this evening being the mediums through which the movement was given impetus.
Crystallization of the movement was gathering in this pretty city today part of the time under the hospitable roof of the Glenwood, with Frank A.

Miller as host, and part of the time on the heights of Rubidoux Mountain, with only the sky above, and with one of the finest roads in the world leading down and around to the city below.
The dedication of a massive wooden cross at the top of Rubidoux, to remind for all time of that early pathfinder, Father Junipero Serra, originator of El Camino Real, was another delightful feature of the day.

The greatest of all lessons learned by the representative men of Southern California who were the guests for the day and evening of Frank A.
Miller and the Riverside Chamber of Commerce, was that in the practice building of good roads afforded by the road that leads up, around, and over Rubidoux. It was properly to mark the opening of this road that the various celebrations of the day were held.
The banquet tonight was to stimulate interest in the building of more ways like this one, and to devise methods for doing so.

Huntington Park Drive and the story of its building were told in The Times of Friday. H. E. Huntington, who was the principal contributor to the building fund of $50,000, was an honored guest of the day, although he modestly remained in the background and derived his great pleasure at hearing compliments heaped upon Maj.

Chittenden of the United States army, who laid out the road, upon George Pearson, the civil engineer of Riverside, who had the work of building in direct charge, and upon Frank A.
Miller, who furnished the inspiration.

NOTABLE GATHERING.

Few times have there been gatherings of men so notable in the life of city, State and nation in California.
There were two presidents of transcontinental railroads, wealthy tourists from various parts of the East, each with a strong attachment for Southern California; mayors of cities, capitalists, college presidents, trolley magnates, leading men of the church, and leaders in every branch of activity.

After spending the late afternoon at the dedication of the cross on Rubi-doux, the party, mostly in automo-

Bishop Conaty and other distinguished visitors proceeding up hill from autos to the Junipero Serra cross-raising ceremony at Riverside yesterday.

The picturesque stone structure is Loring Bridge at entrance to Huntington Park Drive, where mountain road crosses highway to Los Angeles. Above is H. E. Huntington, the principal contributor to the fifty-thousand dollar fund that put the fine road up Rubidoux Mountain, and below Frank A.
Miller of Riverside, who led the movement that brought about the road and the erection of the memorial cross.

upon Francis Cuttle, president of the to appoint a committee of three repre-

This committee, to be named later, is to plan at its earliest convenience a road system that will best meet the requirements of the different sections of Southern California, and of the taxpayers, and submit the proposed plan for the consideration of the Superior courts of the counties interested.
It was recommended that the Supervisors appropriate such funds as may be necessary to inaugurate the system of good roads through the issuance of bonds, if necessary.

TRAIN FOOLS
RAILROADER.

Expecting Collision, Leaps
from Engine Cab.

Master Mechanic of Santa Fe Courts Death.

Ignorant of the Existence of Parallel Track.

In one of the most peculiar accidents in railway annals I. C. Hicks, master mechanic of the Santa Fe Railroad, escaped death last night near South Pasadena. He leaped from the cab of a fast running locomotive at sight of an approaching engine rounding a curve less than 100 yards away. He did not know that the other locomotive was on a parallel track.

When men ran to pick up Hicks, they thought to find him dead. He lay in a heap of gravel, perfectly still and blood was running from a cut on his head. In the Santa Fe Hospital, to which he was taken at once, it developed that his wounds were only superficial.

Hicks is one of the most widely known men in this division of the Santa Fe. His home is in San Bernardino. Yesterday afternoon he boarded a mixed train for Los Angeles. He chose to ride in the cab of the locomotive. Coming from San Bernardino the train was several minutes late, and was proceeding at a rate of speed higher than the usual—probably forty miles an hour, according to the train-men. It was at a point about half way between the Hotel Raymond and the South Pasadena station that Hicks made his leap.

It was the Salt Lake Overland which surprised the master mechanic.
Hicks, looking from the cab of the mixed train, suddenly saw the Salt Lake engine come into view. He was unaccustomed to the bit of track over which he was riding and did not realize the existence of parallel tracks.

To Hicks it seemed as though the other locomotive with its heavy passenger coaches was about to crash into the local. He had no time for thought. He shouted and leaped to avoid the seemingly inevitable collision.

He rolled many feet down an embankment and along the level ground at its foot. The train was stopped and men hurried to his aid. By a miracle he had struck on some leaping up gravel which a construction crew had left. The soft mass broke his fall, and though stunned, he was only slightly hurt.

The local crew, accustomed to meeting trains on a main line, would have taken no thought of the sight which so startled the master mechanic, but when he leaped the railroad at once what was which had terrified him.

LAW WAR ON THE SALARIES.

TOWNSHIP JUSTICES NOT SURE OF EASY MONEY.

Legislature's Act May Prove Unconstitutional—No Provision for Distributing Court Cases—Positions Created to Pay Political Debt to Discredited Politicians May Be Declared Vacant.

After all the maneuvering of place-hunters and the successful amending of county government legislation so that soft snaps could be provided for two new justices and two more constablies in Los Angeles township, and the fee system changed to a regular salary schedule—after all this, the easy jobs may be lost in the shuffle.

The prospect is, according to gossip floating around the Courthouse yesterday, that before the close of the first month of the new justices there will be started injunction proceedings to restrain the County Treasurer from paying to any of the Los Angeles township justices the salaries of $250 per month each allowed by the new law.

This will be a preliminary step towards the attempt which will be made to prove that the provisions of the law are unconstitutional.

Various members of the bar have been discussing the situation, and they are free to state that they believe the salary provisions of the new law will be knocked out, as well as certain other sections. They claim that the failure of the law-makers to provide for the establishment of one Township Court, with four departments, so that cases could be properly distributed by the presiding justice—under such a system as is now prevailing in San Francisco—was a fatal defect.

Under the present system two Justice Courts do the bulk of the work.
It is safe to say that they handle fully seven-eighths of the business going before the Township Courts, while they draw the same salaries as the two Justices who have practically nothing to do.

Under present conditions, there is no way to remedy this state of affairs. The only manner in which the cases filed in one Justice Court could be transferred to another is by the application of a change of venue.

Decisions of California courts are cited to show that various sections of the new law will be declared unconstitutional, and there will likely be a reverting to the fee system until another State Legislature can take hold of the subject and provide for one court divided into the required various departments.

One of these citations is the 14th Cal. Millard vs. Kern county, and there is also cited the 14th California, Tucker vs. Barnum. In the Kern county case an attempt was made to provide for the setting of one certain justice of the peace, while none of the other justices in the county or township were affected. The decision was against the law.

It was not for lack of suggestion that the State Legislature failed to provide the scheme of one court divided into departments, for both Assemblyman Transeau and Senator Savage were urged by Justice Stephens to write the adoption of this plan.

It is quite evident that if there is to be

PREPARING FOR FIRE-A.
Willis Wood, whom officers now say is one of the worst products ever turned out by Arizona, left last night for Tucson in charge of a Deputy United States Marshal. Wood is accused of a postoffice robbery and on that charge an order was yesterday issued in the United States District Court for his removal. He was arrested by a policeman along with a supposed companion, who was fighting with him. It turned out that the "companion" was a secret service operative, who had kept close to Wood until he got sufficient facts to warrant the arrest, and had then provoked the fight in order to cause the step to be taken.

HIS CONDITION SERIOUS.
Dwight Whiting, well-known club man and wealthy ranch owner, is so seriously ill at his home, No. 67 St. Paul avenue that his recovery is considered doubtful. He is suffering from internal hemorrhage, resulting from injury sustained by being thrown violently against a car seat by the sudden lurching of a train on which he was a passenger. Mr. Whiting is aged 53 years and has long been identified with various big interests in this part of the State. He is the owner of the extensive El Toro Rancho in Orange county and possesses much other property.

William E. Ridgely, Federal Controller of the Currency, is to succeed the late James H. Zerk as president of the Commercial National Bank, according to a persistent rumor which has gained credence both in Washington and Chicago.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEY

Does your back ache? Do you get up lame in the morning? Do you feel dull and tired? Does it hurt you to bend over, to lift anything, to get up from a chair? Do you have sudden "catches" or stitches of pain in the back? Does a dull, throbbing ache settle in the small of your back and bother you day and night? Do you sometimes feel that you simply cannot straighten up?

If you have backache, be careful not to make the very common mistake of treating it as a muscular trouble. Do not rub the sore place with liniment, nor put on plaster, for the seat of the trouble is inside—in the kidneys, which lie just beneath the small of the back, on either side of the spine.

A cold, a chill, a fever, overwork, over-eating or overdrinking may start a slight congestion or inflammation in the kidneys that will at once interrupt the kidneys' work of filtering the blood. It is this condition that sets up the aching, and makes your back so bad.

You cannot make any mistake by treating your kidneys at once, for it is these small troubles that lead to dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. If there is any doubt in your mind that the kidneys are affected, notice the urine for a few days. If passages are irregular,

Like a Great Park. For the Better Class of Homes

There's that air of real worth and substantiability about Beverly Hills, that at once merits your approval.

Somehow Beverly Hills happily lacks the taint of commercialism. There are no stone pillars with iron frills—nothing of the gaudy—nothing which suggests an effort to attract attention.

Beverly Hills has that dignity which properly belongs to an exclusive district for the better class of homes.

It is a neighborhood, not a subdivision.
It's very area—all so carefully and highly improved—impresses one.

There's a quiet, good taste about it—a solidity.

Beverly Hills is palatial, but not the "cement pillar" kind—a palatial grandeur that comes from miles of broad, beautifully-finished avenues.

Beverly Hills is not being sold to speculators but to men like yourself—men who appreciate a neighborhood free from every objectionable feature.

Improvements are just a little better than you can find in any part of Los Angeles.

Sewer system, gas, water, electricity, excellent car service—(the new subway heads straight for Beverly Hills and will bring it within 15 minutes of your office.)

The property would doubtless sell as rapidly if these conveniences were omitted, but the purpose behind Beverly Hills is to make this district a practical success. It will rapidly build up with the better class of homes.

The moderate prices of property are made possible only by the broad scope of the work and to encourage building. A home at Beverly Hills is an investment.

Prices of lots $900 and up. Lots 80x160 and up.

INDIAN SPEAKS AT PASADENA MISSIONARY MEET.

Women's Union Holds Its Semi-annual Convention at the Crown of the Valley—Various Speakers Present Various Phases of the Field. Appeal for Fairness With China.

Office of The Times, No. 12 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, April 24.—The Pasadena Missionary Union held its semi-annual convention yesterday at the United Presbyterian Church. The attendance of the church was well filled both morning and afternoon, all the Pasadena churches being represented in the audience and speakers.

Mrs. Laura P. Stevens, president of the union, was in the chair at both sessions, with Miss Fannie Lewis acting as secretary. The morning sessions were led by Mrs. Cass, after which the reports of the officers and of the several committees were read. Mrs. Lewis made a gratifying report of the work of the union, and Mrs. Maxwell told of the progress of the Indian missions.

The address of the morning was that by Rev. Brigham, a full-blooded Ojibwa Indian. Mr. Brigham told of the work among the Indians of his own tribe on Walpole Island, where there are about 200 men. He impressed upon his hearers that the Indian has a religion, believes in a God, in a hereafter, and in his own fashion is looking for a Messiah. It is this idea of a Messiah that runs through many forms of his worship. The ghost dance is an expression of it, and the legends of the Ojibwas are founded upon it in a large measure.

"You will find this thought," said Mr. Brigham, "in the story of Elias. It is by seeking the Indian's religion and intelligently adapting it to the Christian religion that the missionary will meet with the greatest success. Do not try to teach him that everything that he has believed is wrong, but try to show him that the realization of the ideas which have been struggling for expression. Patience and patience is needed, but the reward is great and satisfying."

Miss Margaret Kerr rendered a vocal solo, which was followed by prayer. Of the missionary outlook in the corner, Mr. Lee said that the field is ripe for the reaper, but the workers are few in comparison to the need. As to the hopefulness of the situation, he told of the wonderful strides toward progress made by the natives of the Congo under Christian influences. People who still had their teeth sharpened for their cannibal feasts had built a church, had accepted the Christian religion, and were eager to work in foreign fields.

Rev. Dodge made a stirring and eloquent appeal for fairness in dealing with China. He said that the attitude of humanity be one of suspicion? said he. "Why should peace not be as spontaneous as war? why should there be so much concern over the balance of power. Because the Christian world has not yet come to the realization of the ideals of the Son of God. Are we altogether good? Is there not good in China? Is there not hope for China? That we should be so suspicious of the Orient?" Mr. Dodge then took up the question of racial prejudice and the relation to which it is a hindrance to the work of advancing the cause of Christianity in many lands.

Rev. Fisher confirmed what Mr. Dodge had said, but added that he believed that it was the work of the Anglo-Saxon to convert China, and that the United States is especially responsible by reason of the opportunities at hand. "How do we meet this responsibility?" exclaimed Dr. Fisher. "By special, and I might say, brutal legislation. We are not interested in this respect, especially in California, in our attitude toward the Orient by a sentiment which was generated in Europe and disseminated by the foreign element among us."

"Mrs. H. G. Bennett told of the poverty-stricken conditions of the women of Europe. She spoke of the difference between the women of northern and of southern Europe. The most miserably miserable woman I ever saw," said the speaker, "were those of Liverpool and of Edinburgh. The poor of our southern countries take their poverty more cheerfully."

Miss Stalker spoke entertainingly of stirring events among missionaries. Mrs. Holbrook read a report of the work that Pasadena women were doing, and Rev. William Blackstone led in prayer.

Rev. Meyer of Chicago, a Christianized Jew, who is head of the Jewish missions of Chicago, made an impressive appeal for interest in his people. He gave a list of converted Jews who had made their homes in the work of advancing the cause of Christianity in many lands.

Mrs. Clark, a former missionary in Persia, spoke upon the needs of that country. The difficulties in reaching the Mohammedans, she said, are the most difficult that the foreign missionary has found. She pleaded for interest in establishing the Christian college, which the Persian boys call the factory where Americans make soda water.

Mrs. F. A. Wales made one of the brightest addresses of the day, when she presented the cause of the freedmen.

The following committees were appointed: Resolutions, Mrs. Parsons, Mrs. Spooner, Mrs. Drawbaugh, and Mrs. Parker; courtesy, Mrs. Kilpatrick and Miss Ward.

Mrs. Lewis led in a question box half-hour, and the session closed with a song by a negro quartette.

CALLS FOR BALLOT.

The City Clerk, yesterday morning received a summons from Judge Judd Houser directing him to bring all of the ballots used in the late city election into court, Monday morning, for the purpose of allowing a recount. Immediately the officials of the department started getting things in readiness for the event, and when court convened Monday morning there will be a bewildering array of ballots on hand for the authorities to inspect.

Yesterday the Election forces, through their attorneys, E. P. Hahn, Seward A. Simons, and Works, Lee & Works, filed a demurrer to the complaint of the Waterbury faction against certain votes which it is claimed were illegally cast for Barker. The demurrer is based on the fact that the election was held on the 22nd of March, and the election was held on the 22nd of March.

Insufficient grounds to change the result of the vote.

LIBRARY FOR REDONDO.

City Trustees Pass an Ordinance for Re-establishment of Such an Institution.

REDONDO, April 24.—Acting upon a petition received from the people, represented by one-fourth of the qualified voters of the municipality, the City Trustees have passed an ordinance providing for the establishment of a public library.

The City Engineer is drafting plans for a new City Hall. At first it was intended to provide quarters for a public library, but the new plans will omit the library room, and the entire building will be arranged for the accommodation of city officers.

A public fountain is to be provided for the ornamentation of the triangle of Pacific and Broadway streets, and for the convenience of the general public. The city is to appropriate $20 toward the fountain, which is to be raised among the citizens.

Work is being rushed on the new casino on the ocean front. It is to cost $25,000, and by the terms of the contract is to be completed by July 1.

Elaborate preparations are under way for the annual meeting of the Womans Suffrage Convention at the Elks' banquet tonight. The colonial room is beautifully decorated with asparagus plumosa and yellow shaded candles. After dinner tables were arranged for bridge and the game was enjoyed by the guests.

ALVALON.

AVAILON, April 24.—As Hugo Amundson was winding his way homeward late last night, he was startled and almost stunned by a brilliant light. As he turned to the mountains east of town their tops seemed like one vast flame so bright as almost to blind him for an instant. He thinks a meteor struck one of the highest peaks and exploded.

F. W. Lilly, who has just been commissioned division superintendent of the Pacific Wireless Telegraph Company, was a visitor to Avalon yesterday. Mr. Lilly said the company has in mind extensive improvements in the wireless station here, and he was here to look the ground over with the view of replacing the present machinery with a more powerful plant designed to reach up the coast to and beyond San Francisco.

Harry B. Davis celebrated his birthday last evening with a dinner at the Metropole to his intimate friends. Mr. Davis' friends were kind to him, and provided him with fishing tackle which was sure enough light, the rod of "split bamboo" about two feet long, and in a huge box about three feet long he unearthed a fish about one inch in length. There were numerous other reminders of the fishing trip.

Gen. and Mrs. William M. Wallace, U.S.A., left yesterday, after a month's stay on the island.

Col. and Mrs. Ed Dunham of San Bernardino joined Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Withers here yesterday for a few days' stay.

Lawrence W. H. Savage of San Pedro, with his daughter, Miss Josie, will M. Norris and wife of Muscatine, Iowa, and Mrs. Mary Wray took place at Rodlands last Wednesday. Mr. Halsey was until recently a guest at the Metropole.

A steam laundry is expected to be in operation here by June 1. The new building of the enterprise, W. J. Gillen, has been here several days, and the machinery arrived today, direct from Chicago.

SUNNYSIDE, April 24.—A flag-raising was held this afternoon at the schoolhouse at Manchester avenue and Pacific street. It was the first flag to go up over the building. The children of the school served light refreshments and the school was decorated with flags.
